Dear Internship Coordinator:

The Nevada Department of Wildlife's Game Division is offering a full-time summer seasonal work opportunity for 2023 through the James Lathrop & Wayne Capurro Memorial Internship Program.

Through the internship, the Game Division can employ up to five college students for a summer field season. The internships are sponsored by Nevada Bighorns Unlimited and the Nevada Wildlife Record Book. The Department has one internship position available for 2023.

The application packet is both attached (can be redistributed as needed) and available by emailing the contact below. Please forward this information to graduating seniors who aspire to attend college or university to pursue a degree in wildlife management or another conservation-related field of study. This is a competitive program and interested parties should pay particular attention to the qualifications described within the packet. The application due date is 5:00 P.M., February 10, 2023. If you have questions, please contact:
